I. Douglas Library Website

II. Careers & Occupations research guide
   A. On library’s website, click on “Research Guides” and choose “Careers & Occupations.”
   B. REMINDER: Each research guide has a search box you can use to look for something you saw on any of the research guides.

III. Getting Started
   A. Course assignment
   B. Related research guides – Business, Criminal Justice, Human Services, etc.

IV. Occupational Outlook Handbook (online)
   A. This is an ebook published by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.
   B. For each career in the handbook, click on “Printer Friendly” option on right side to print all information listed. Look at suggested websites listed at the end of each career for more info. (Reminder: The suggested citation listed at the bottom is not in MLA format.)
   C. To cite the Occupational Outlook Handbook, refer to the library’s guide “Examples of How to Cite Career Resources in MLA Style” or “Examples of How to Cite Career Resources in APA Style” found under the MLA or APA tab.

V. Articles, Journals, Books and more (see library’s guide “Tips for Searching EBSCO Discovery”)

VI. Websites
   A. “Websites for Careers & Jobs” (career exploration, salaries, job search websites, etc.)
   B. “Websites for College Success, Majors & Programs”
   C. “Civil Service Jobs”
   D. Evaluating Internet resources
   E. Google Scholar
   F. Tip: Choose a research guide related to your career and click on its “Websites” tab for suggestions.

VII. Research Help
   A. Chat with a librarian any time using Ask Us 24/7.
   B. Come to the Reference Desk during the library’s hours.